

Patterns of Life

Directions Complete this graphic organizer to show that you understand how to make generalizations about patterns of settlement.

FACTS + DETAILS

GENERALIZATION

People settle where the climate is mild and the soil is fertile. People also settle in cities to find work. Bodies of water are often near these places.

Differences in language, customs, and religion often separate cultures. Contact between cultures, however, spreads cultural ideas. Through technology, people of different cultures can more easily communicate with each other.

